CLOVERPORT BARBECUE SPLENDID SUCCESS HUNDREDS ENJOY AN IDEAL DAY

Entertaining Program From Start to Finish---Liberal Spenders---Dennie Sheeran Gets Kitchen Cabinet.

BARBECUE LARGEST SOCIAL EVENT OF THE SUMMER.

The Cloverport barbecue given Thursday at Skillman's Grove by the St. Rose congregation of this city was attended by 2,500 people, including the many fine children who got to have the time of their youth. The grove was like a beautiful park with the hillside as a back-ground and the ravine running through the valley. Under the trees were booths, the band stand, the dining room and the merry-go-round.

The program began at an early hour and was under the direction of Emmett Edmondson. Every contest was directed by Mr. Edmondson. His enthusiasm and dramatic talent added lively interest to the announcements of the day.

Serving the dinner began at an early hour. The delightful day, not too hot nor too cool, created an appetite and the people certainly enjoyed the barbecued meats and fried chicken. Among the dinner guests were people from Hardinsburg, Hawesville, Irvington and Louisville.

Good Time For All.

While the band played, the crowd mingled, took in all the amusements and occasionally made trips back and forth down town. The automobile service was on all day.

The shoe-hunt was great. Six small boys put their shoes in a barrel and all tried at the same time to get their own out to put on again. Ralph Sims was the first and won the prize, one-half barrel of Blue Ribbon flour. Sims' determination to win attracted keenest attention.

The fattest woman is Miss Bernice Kinder. She weighs 248 pounds. J. H. Brown gave the prize, a parlor lamp.

The youngest walking baby is Nancy Edith Beamer, the fourteen months' old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Beamer. Today she has a $5 certificate drawing interest at 4 per cent at the Bank of Cloverport.

Miss Louise Babbage found the mysterious man and was given $5 by the Breckenridge Bank. Miss Virginia McGavock shared half as they had a partnership hunt. Mr. Edmondson was "the man of mystery."

Many Small Boys Attend.

The number of small boys at the barbecue would have made a regiment. It was a grand sight to see them when they gathered by the dozens on the hill to watch the boys' 50 yard dash which was won by William Perkins. The prize was a set of baseball goods from M. Weatherholt.

The capital prize was won by Dennie Sheeran, of Hardinsburg. Mr. Sheeran held the number 39, which drew the kitchen cabinet from M. Hamman & Sons.

Mrs. F. M. Tilford, the mother of Mrs. James Arnold, was the oldest woman present, winning the dinner plates given by Mrs. E. Weisenberg. She is eighty-one. Mr. Noel will get The Breckenridge News until he is 94. He was the oldest man.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Powers brought ten children and got the $2.50 worth of groceries given by Gibson Bros. for the largest family. None of the children were grown and the parents were not old.

The Big Ben clock went from Oelze's store to Byron Beauchamp.

Other Contests Won.

Henry Johnson, the tallest man, got the hat from F. Fraize. R. F. Craven won the traveling bag from Quiggins & Beavins in the race on all fours. Elise May got a hat from Miss Evelyn Hicks, winning the little girls' ball contest. R. F. Craven won the shoes from Sippel's and a half barrel of flour from Star Roller Mills in two races. Miss Emily Reid won three dollar toilet combination from Wedding's, winning the ladies' ball throwing contest. Hazel Maples won the girls' race, a hat from Mrs. Cordrey's. The candy eating contest prize $5 worth of dental work by Dr. Baucum was won by Michael McCracken. Latest newly weds were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Price.

Barbecue Notes.

Mrs. Tereasa Price bought $5 worth of lead pencils from Paul Lewis, who worked hard every minute to make the stove and kitchen cabinet contest a success.

o o o

One young woman brought a ten dollar bill to spend and her friends got the pleasure of it. It is said about $1,300 was taken in at the barbecue and some over $500 cleared.

o o o

The barbecue dance given in Oelze's Hall Thursday night by the young men of Cloverport was largely attended. The patronesses were Mrs. Frank Mattingly, Mrs. Emma Skillman and Miss Elizabeth Skillman. A number of out-town guests were present.

o o o

Rev. J. F. Knue, J. M. O'Brien, Charles L. Miller and J. M. Powers were among the visitors from McQuady.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Elder were here from Richmond, Ky.

Lee Walls, Democratic candidate, Paul Basham, Republican candidate for circuit clerk, and J. O. Hook, Democratic candidate for Representative were on the grounds.

Cliff Haddock, Clint Adkisson and Crawford Beauchamp, of Webster, were here. Mr. Beauchamp remained over to visit relatives in town.

Dennie Sheeran was the best pleased man on the grounds when he drew the kitchen cabinet.

AMMONS WILL ENTERTAIN BAPTISTS

Breckenridge County Association Will Meet Next Week Thursday--W. M. U. Will Meet Jointly.

EXCELLENT DAYS PLANNED.

The Breckenridge County Baptist Association meets at Ammons August 25 and 26. The session will be held in the English Baptist church and the people of Ammons and the community will entertain the visitors.

Rev. H. J. Blackburn and W. H. Dutschke write that those going must get off at Stephensport, where arrangements are made to convey the people to Ammons.

Mrs. Tom Gregory, of Garfield, writes the following:

"Miss Emma Leachman, of Louisville, will meet with the women of the W. M. U. at Ammons at their annual meeting. Every president in the Breckenridge Association and as many members as can be there are earnestly asked to attend and help make this the best meeting we have ever had."

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

Sunday School Convention Held At Harned, Ky. An All Day Program Was Enjoyed by Many.

The Hardinsburg Magisterial District Sunday School Convention was held at Harned August 10.

The services began at 10 a. m. and lasted until 3:45 p. m. A one minute talk was given by each delegate present.

Among those on the program were as follows: Robert Weatherford, Mrs. J. A. Sandbach, Mrs. W. D. Smith, F. May, Herbert Hall, Mrs. L. C. Brington, G. A. Wright, Christine Kennison, J. Whitworth, Miss Eva Carrigan and W. T. Gregory.

The day was enjoyed by all.

IRVIN BAILEY

Of Cannelton, Passes Away---Stricken With Paralysis on Way to Picnic---Died at Home of a Friend.

Irvin Bailey, of Cannelton, Ind., passed quietly away at 8:30 Friday evening at the home of Fritz Taberling on the hill. His remains were taken to Cannelton for burial. Every thing that human hands can do was done to alleviate suffering, and much sympathy was extended to the distressed family.

Mr. Bailey, with his three daughters, Mrs. Bradley McCoal, Mrs. Otto King and Mrs. Jess Weatherholt, came from Cannelton Thursday to attend the picnic here. Just before reaching Cloverport, Mr. Bailey was taken sick. He was subject to such spells and the family thought he would be better in a short time.

He was taken to the home of Fritz Taberling, an acquaintance, and at one time a neighbor of his. Instead of getting better he grew worse, and Dr. F. L. Lightfoot was summoned. His condition became critical and other members of the family were notified. He was finally stricken with paralysis, after which he soon passed away.

Joe, Jr., Taking Vacation.

Dear Mr. Babbage:—I notice that my subscription and also that of my mother, Mrs. Alice Weatherholt, have expired. So I guess I had better send in couple dollars to keep on the safe side, as I do not want to miss a single copy.

It's just like receiving a letter from home, only it gets here almost every Thursday, rain or shine (it has been mostly rain lately) and the letters seem to be a month or two late some times. We have a fine prospect for corn here. The wheat, oats and hay got damaged by rain quite a bit.

While I think about it, send some one up the river and wake up Joe Mulhatton.

I remain, yours truly,
Wm. Weatherholt,

MEN AND CAR GO OVER BANK

Barbecue Day—No One Seriously Injured—Miraculous Escape of Death Experienced.

MR. HOOK'S CAR WRECKED.

Russell Hook, Randall Weatherholt, Ameil Pate and Robert Curtis were the young men in the automobile that rolled over Morton's bank, across from Solbrig's residence in this city Thursday afternoon. Mr. Hook was driving the $1,200 Jefferies car of his father, Jeff Hook, and turned it to the right of the street to let a bus pass. The ground was soft and the bank gave way. The car rolled over the bank three times and the fourth time it stopped in Mr. Henry Morton's corn field.

The young men escaped without serious injuries. The car was badly damaged and taken to Sawyer's machine shop and repaired. Branson Elkins and Tom Driskell, of Hardinsburg, who are working on Skillman's bridge, assisted Mr. Sawyer and the car was in shape by seven o'clock for a return trip over the pike.

INSURANCE MEET

At Irvington---Planters' Co-Operative Insurance Company Elects Officers for Coming Year.

The policy holders of the Planters' Co-operative Insurance Company of Breckenridge and Meade counties, Ky., met in annual session at the college in Irvington on Thursday, August 5. All of the old officers were reelected: President, A. J. Thompson, of Guston; vice-president, Asia Hardin, of Lodi; treasurer, J. Will Brown, of Guston; secretary, Chas. H. Drury, of Irvington.

The next meeting of the Farmers' Insurance Company will be held in Irvington, Ky., on the first Thursday in August, 1916.

A Contented Man.

Dear Mr. Babbage:—Enclosed find check for one dollar for The Breckenridge News. If you are still sending it to Route 1, Box 46, Hardinsburg, Ky., please change it the address below. Please send me last week's copy, as I want to get in line with the fair.

I located here last February. Like the city afloat. Plenty of work to do at good wages, notwithstanding a Democratic administration, the war and all that kind of stuff. All kinds of business seems to be improving and with a bumper wheat and corn crop in sight; a strong bunch of Democrats on the ticket for November; at peace at home and abroad, and having all these things and more to enjoy, a man should thank God for living in the United States and especially in Kentucky. So here is to Stanley and the entire ticket.

Yours very truly,

R. T. COOMES,
Route 2, Box 58, Berry Boulevard,
Louisville, Ky.

Fine Livery Service.

Pierce Brothers have started a splendid livery service for Cloverport. Allen Pierce is manager and the traveling public is delighted with the conveniences, teams and horses he furnishes. Mr. Pierce is getting a good patronage.

Ten Dollars Given Away.

Brown's Sanitary Restaurant second contest closed Thursday, August 5. The prize, $5, was won by Mrs. T. F. Sawyer, Mrs. John Cooper, Miss Louise Babbage and Dr. Chas. Lightfoot. This makes $10 given away by Mr. Brown.

Notice.

The committee in charge of the picnic given by the members of St. Rose church, desires to thank publicly Mr. A. B. Skillman for the use of his ideal grounds, Mr. Emmet Edmondson for his invaluable services, the donors of the prizes, the local Masonic fraternity for giving the benefit of their experience in former barbecues, and all who, in any way, helped to make the event a social and financial success.

To the Voters of Breckenridge County.

LEE WALLS

I am now completing the last year of my first term as clerk of your circuit court. My official and private life are open and known to all.

My official career, as your circuit clerk, has received the approval of the State officials, whose duty it is to inspect the records of public officials. I have been honored by the Democratic party as its nominee, to succeed myself, without opposition.

These facts are significant as are evident to any thinking person. I respectfully solicit the support of the voters of this county that I may be endorsed at your hands, to succeed myself at the November election, 1915. I have discharged the duties of circuit clerk without favor or partisanship and if re-elected by you I shall continue to perform the duties in like manner.

Respectfully submitted,
LEE WALLS.

Mrs. Cordrey Ill.

Mrs. Margaret Cordrey is critically ill at the home of her son, Mr. James Cordrey, and Mrs. Cordrey, the latter being called home from Florida. Miss Bertha Cordrey has been at her mother's bedside constantly since she was taken ill last week.

Death Expected.

The relatives of Mrs. Julius Dutschke have been called to her bedside, death being expected momentarily.

Notice to Subscribers.

Every subscriber, who is able, please renew your subscription for six months or a year, as it saves us a great deal of expense, time and work. Three months' subscriptions are a great inconvenience. John D. Babbage.

Correction.

In the notice about the contracts received by the Cloverport Boat & Machine Co., the barges are to be re-built, instead of built, at the given price.

MRS. R. M. CRENSHAW DEAD, AGE 63 YEARS

Leaves Husband and Ten Grown Children—Illness of Six Months—Death Expected For Sometime.

FUNERAL HELD THURSDAY.

Mrs. R. M. Crenshaw died at her home in the country last Wednesday morning after an illness of six months. Her death was caused from chronic gastritis and occurred at 2 o'clock that morning. Her family had been called to her bedside several days before. The funeral was conducted Thursday morning by the Rev. J. S. Henry and the burial took place in the Catholic cemetery. Many friends attended the services to pay a last loving tribute to their kind neighbor.

Mrs. Crenshaw was born in Davies county, January 16, 1852, and was married at the age of fifteen years to Robert M. Crenshaw, in August, 1867. Besides her husband she leaves ten grown children, Mrs. Joe Beavin, McDaniels, Ky., Mrs. Thos. Ryan Hardinsburg, Ky., James Crenshaw, Mrs. Frank Hinton and Mrs. Minnie Macken, Axtel, Ky., Miss Agnes Crenshaw and Emmett Crenshaw, of Cloverport, Mrs. R. E. Scroggins, of Kirk, Chas. Crenshaw, Billings, Mont., and Thos. Crenshaw, of El Paso, Tex.

Mrs. Crenshaw's death will make a vacant place in the beautiful home she made for her large family. She began early in life to make sacrifices for her husband and children and was rewarded by their love, thoughtfulness and appreciation. They were kind and patient to her during her long illness and her last days were filled with kind and sweet attention from them.

Card of Thanks.

We sincerely thank our neighbors and friends for the kindness shown us at the illness and death of our loving mother.

Family of R. M. Crenshaw.

Mule Market Active.

Vic Robertson bought last week six head of mules; two from Tom Miller for $300; one from Forest Jennings, $160; one from D. H. Smith, $145; two from Dr. F. L. Lightfoot, $340.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ayres announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Douglas Ayres, to Mr. Albert Poulton, of Liverpool, England.

Miss Ayres is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ayres and is one of the most popular and attractive members of society in this city.

Mr. Poulton is a cultured, refined gentleman, and is a reputed cotton merchant.

The wedding will be one of the social events of the early winter.—Hancock Clarion.

FEDERAL RESERVE TO AID FARMERS

Plans For Banks to Lend Money
For Marketing Crops.

HELP TO COTTON GROWERS

Producers of That Staple Need More Aid Because of the Great Variation
In Price to Rediscount Notes Secured by Proper Warehouse Receipts.
All Institutions to Co-operate.

Preliminary plans designed to make available the resources of the federal reserve system in the annual fall movement of crops have been worked out by the federal reserve board. Writing to the twelve regional banks, the board pointed out how members of the system may help to finance the crop movement.

The board's action was taken, the letter says, to forestall any possibility of congestion of crops this fall or lack of financial accommodation to move them and to avoid a recurrence of the stringency which in the past has marked this movement.

Although the board applies its plan to wheat, corn and all other cereals, it devotes most attention to the cotton crop, which, it says, is peculiarly sensitive to abnormal conditions such as now exist in the export trade. The letter says:

Helping the Farmers.

"There should be no difficulty in affording the producers the assistance necessary to enable them to market their products in volume corresponding to the power of the trade to absorb them.

"In order to accomplish this end it is suggested that federal reserve banks adopt a definite policy with reference to rediscounting paper secured by documents in satisfactory form evidencing the ownership of stored agricultural products. Through such a policy, together with proper methods of warehousing, federal reserve banks can be a potent factor in assisting the normal movement of staple agricultural products from the field to the factory or to the consumer."

The board calls special attention to the marketing of the cotton crop because it is "clearly to the common interest that credits based upon this crop be protected as far as possible from the danger of demoralization." It shows that no staple commodity is subject to greater variations in prices than cotton, which offers an inviting field for the speculator.

To Rediscount Notes.

"Federal reserve banks should particularly point out to their members that they are prepared to rediscount the notes of farmers and merchants secured by proper warehouse receipts for cotton and accompanied by evidence of insurance."

Member banks, the letter says, which offer these notes to federal reserve banks for rediscount should be ready to state the grade and market value of the cotton, and the notes should be in the customary collateral form, providing the right to call for additional security in event of material decline in market value.

"The amount to be advanced would be left primarily to the judgment of the member bank," says the letter.

The board suggests that the reserve banks call attention of their member banks to the desirability of reserving storage space for such cotton as is to be used as security for loans in localities where warehouse facilities are inadequate. The letter says that, while there is not sufficient warehouse space in the south to take care of the entire cotton crop, there is probably ample facility for the proper storage of all cotton likely to be pledged for loans.

"While there seems to be no reason to believe that the world's present and potential supply of cotton is out of proportion to requirements during the next twelve months, it is nevertheless important because of our lack of adequate shipping facilities, as well as restriction brought about by the war upon free exports to all countries, that ample means be provided for the proper handling and effective marketing of cotton."

Similar means may be taken to aid in financing other agricultural products, the letter says, wherever there is available a system of warehouses, elevators or other approved means of storing and certifying.

MORE PEOPLE GO TO COLLEGE

216,493 Students In 567 Institutions In 1914.

There were 216,493 students in 567 colleges, universities and technological schools in 1914, according to the annual report of the commissioner of education just issued. This is an increase of 14,262 over 1913. Men still outnumber women in higher education. There were 139,373 men in 1914 and 77,120 women as compared with 128,644 men and 73,587 women in 1913. Receipts during the year totaled $120,597,257, of which $18,422,856 was for endowment. Benefactions to colleges and universities totaled $26,670,017, something over $2,000,000 more than in the previous year.

CURIOUS COINCIDENCE.

An Unexpected Meeting With a Long Lost Set of Dishes.

In the American Magazine the story of a curious coincidence is told in a letter written by Elsie B. Hart of San Gabriel, Cal.:

"In the early days in California very little china was used that did not come from the orient. A man whose home was in Folsom, who preferred the china of Europe, took advantage of a visit to England to order a complete dinner set ornamented with a design of his own selection. In the course of time this was packed and shipped to San Francisco by sailing vessel round the Horn, but after long delay the vessel was given up as lost and was never afterward heard from.

"Years afterward the Californian while traveling in China was invited to dine at the home of a missionary. What was his astonishment to find the table set with his own dishes, purchased so long ago! Concealing his surprise, he commented on the beauty of the china, and this called forth an explanation from his hostess. She told him the china had an interesting history, as it had been washed up on the nearby shore, and they had bought it from the man who had recovered it from the ocean.

"Surprising as it may seem, he never told his host that he was eating off his own dishes!"

Dispondency Due to Indigestion.

"About three months ago, when I was suffering from indigestion which caused headache and dizzy spells and made me feel tired and despondent, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. Geo. Hon, Macedon, N. Y. "This medicine proved to be the very thing I needed, as one day's treatment relieved me greatly. I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they rid me of this trouble." Obtainable everywhere.

By Comparison.

"Dubkins is a great comfort to me." "I don't see how you can say that. He's the most tiresome chump I have ever met."

"That's just it. Although I don't amount to much, it's true, every time I look at Dubkins I feel that I could amount to less."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Louisville Woman Finds Speedy
Relief by the Use of Tanlac.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Frank Pettis, wife of the well-known assistant chief electrician of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, who resides at 800 Camp street, Louisville, is among the many women who have found speedy relief from serious illness by the use of Tanlac. Mrs. Pettis said:

"I have been in a nervous, run-down condition for some time. My digestion was very poor, and I had difficulty in eating solid foods. I was so depressed in spirits at times that I almost had a dread for the future.

"Tanlac proved to be just what I needed. The medicine acted like a general tonic for me. I am improved in every way, and I very cheerfully endorse Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Cloverport by the Wedding's Drug Store, and in Irvington by the Irvington Pharmacy.

NATURE AS A DESIGNER.

If You Need a Model of Equilibrium Study the Kangaroo.

There was a certain college professor of machine design who was as original in his views as he was able in his subject. One of his pet theories was the interrelation between nature and correct design.

"Boys," he would say, "there has been only one designer who never made a mistake, and the more we study his work the better machines we will build. When you put legs under a machine think of a horse or a cow, and get them as far apart as you can. Don't get too much overhang at either end.

"And, speaking of a counterbalance, study the kangaroo. There is no prettier example of equilibrium in all positions. The further over he leans the more his tail comes into action off the ground. And again, in speaking of general design, wherever possible, try to work for elasticity as against rigidity. You find very little of the rigid in nature, and little trees often survive a gale by bending, where big ones are blown down."

All of which was undoubtedly very true, and made more of an impression on his hearers than some of the more complicated mathematical demonstrations that followed.—John H. Van Deventer in Engineering Magazine.

STRUGGLES OF AN ARTIST.

Story of the Peasant Painter Millet and "The Angelus."

It was only after long years of struggle and dire poverty, through which Millet was consoled and supported by his wife, that the peasant painter was able to take the three roomed cottage at Barbizon and "try to do something really good."

It was then that he began to paint that most beautiful poem of poverty, "The Angelus," which is today one of the most valuable pictures in the world. Again and again he threw aside the picture in despair of ever finishing it to his satisfaction, and as often his wife replaced it on the easel and induced him to continue.

On one occasion he was so incensed at not being able to produce a certain effect that he seized a knife and would have destroyed the canvas and ended the matter once for all had not his wife fortunately seized his hand and induced him to give the picture another trial.

Thus it was that at last "The Angelus" found a place on the walls of the Louvre. The success it won encouraged Millet to paint many more pictures and thus place himself among the immortals in art.

THE MUDDY MISSOURI.

How the River Lowers the Surface of the Land It Drains.

The Missouri is the muddiest river in the Mississippi valley. It carries more silt than any other large river in the United States except possibly the Rio Grande and the Colorado. For every square mile of country drained it carries downstream 381 tons of dissolved and suspended matter each year. In other words, the river gathers annually from the country that it drains more than 123,000,000 tons of silt and soluble matter, some of which it distributes over the flood plains below to form productive agricultural lands, but most of which finds its way at last to the gulf of Mexico.

It is by means of data of this kind that geologists compute the rate at which the lands are being eroded away. It has been shown that the Missouri river is lowering the surface of the land drained by it at the rate of 1 foot in 6,036 years. The surface of the United States as a whole is now being worn down at the rate of 1 foot in 9,120 years.

It has been estimated that if this erosive action of the streams of the United States could have been concentrated on the isthmus of Panama it would have dug in seventy-three days the canal which was completed after ten years' work with the most powerful appliances yet devised by man.—Geological Survey Bulletin.

RIFLE SHOOTING BOOMED BY WAR

Government to Hold Big Match on Florida Range.

CIVILIANS' SCORES ARE HIGH

Many New Clubs Formed, and Unusual Interest Is Shown In Approaching Tournaments—Teams From Various Organizations and Colleges to Compete For Valuable Prizes.

Rifle shooting is now having a great boom in the country. Interest undoubtedly has been aroused in target shooting by the demand for a better state of preparation for the country's defense. Not only the regular services, but the civilians at large and students of colleges and schools, are taking much interest in rifle training, and local, interstate and national tournaments will be numerous during the next three months.

As a result of this agitation all the states are taking increased interest in the big national shooting event to be conducted by the government at Jacksonville, Fla., in October. Maryland and Pennsylvania are the only states which have positively declined to give their national guard the benefit of training a team for these matches.
Three other states are doubtful, but are making every effort to overcome the difficulties so that they can be represented. They are California, Washington and Virginia. For the first time these matches have been thrown open to teams of cadets from military schools and colleges.

Government Gives Aid.

Never before has the government been so generous in its efforts to make this shooting tournament a success.
The last congress appropriated $50,000 to assist the states in paying transportation charges of their teams to Florida. While there the enlisted men will be allowed commuted ration of $1.50 a day.

The range in Florida is a new one, second only in size to the Camp Perry range of Ohio and second to the famous Sea Girt (N. J.) range in its natural beauty. Adjutant General Foster of Florida and his aids have spent years of labor in perfecting and beautifying this range, which is located on the St. Johns river, twelve miles from Jacksonville.

The interest of civilians throughout the country is shown by the organization of government rifle clubs in almost every state, as well as in Porto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii and the canal zone. In the past six months over 200 clubs have been organized, and this number could have been more than doubled if the government had been able to offer range facilities. To these clubs there have been issued by the ordnance department of the army since the first of the year 806 Krag rifles and 550,150 rounds of ammunition.

To test the efficiency of these club members with the military rifle a national competition was organized and a trophy presented by the war department, which represents the championship of the United States among civilian government rifle clubs. In this competition twenty-six of the most progressive of these clubs have entered teams, and the competition is now going on under the supervision of army and national guard officers. Each club is represented by ten men shooting a course of firing similar to that followed by the national guard in their record shooting.

New Members Sought.

The National Rifle Association of America, with offices in Washington, has begun a campaign for 100,000 members at $2 each. The receipts are to constitute a fund which will, it is announced, be used in an effort to put rifle shooting in this country on a plane with other sports such as baseball and football.

Special attention is being given to the installation of indoor ranges in schools and colleges. Y. M. C. A. buildings and wherever sports are encouraged.

It is claimed that every new member will mean a qualified marksman, and from a patriotic standpoint the plans of the National Rifle association commend themselves to all citizens who believe that a better state of preparation is needed in this country.
The plans of the association have the indorsement of the highest officials of the war department.

Interest in rifle shooting will be stimulated at the camps of instruction for students now being held at Plattsburg (N. Y.) barracks; Presidio of San Francisco; Ludington, Mich., and Chickamauga, Ga., by the donation of trophies and medals by the National Rifle Association of America for team and individual records.

On His Day of Rest.

On his day off William Anderson, in Los Angeles, Cal., blundered into a stable, was bit by a watchdog, kicked by four horses, assaulted by twelve Chinamen, who thought him a thief; fell from a seven foot fence trying to escape and was arrested as a plain drunk.

Thanked For Their Kindness.

Two jail breakers have post carded authorities of Montclair, N. J., thanking them for favors shown and apologizing for their sudden leave taking.

ECHOES FROM CANNELTON

Cannelton Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Cannelton resident leaves no room for doubt on that point.

Mrs. Lotus Hoover, Eighth St., Cannelton, Ind., says: "My kidneys were disordered for a long time, before I knew exactly what was the matter with me. My limbs were stiff and sore and I often had sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and after I had finished three boxes, I was entirely cured."
(Statement given March 15, 1910.)

Over two years later Mrs. Hoover said: "I gladly confirm the public statement I gave before in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I always recommend this medicine when I have the opportunity."

PERFUME OF MUSK.

The Odor Is Penetrating Because the Substance Is Radio-active.

The extraordinarily penetrating power of musk perfume is accounted for by the fact that it is radio-active. The United States consul at Chungking, China, writes that this property causes the odor to be carried through the air in a way that would otherwise be impossible. And he adds that this radioactive property "affects most peculiarly the natives who carry it. If it is held close to the body for any length of time it produces sores that are probably similar in character to those caused by pure radium."

Musk is a secretion of certain glands or pouches of the male musk deer and is secreted only during certain seasons of the year. It is difficult to obtain pure, and one of the largest French manufacturers of perfume keeps a representative at Tachienlu, near the Tibetan border, for the sole purpose of buying it.

Three thousand pounds of musk on an average are shipped every year from Chungking, and fully half of this has passed through Tachienlu, which is one of the principal musk markets of the world, though eighteen days' journey from Chungking, the nearest port.

The deer, which are seldom more than three feet long and twenty to twenty-two inches tall, are being slaughtered in such numbers that they are becoming more and more scarce and will eventually be extinct.

Poultry Parasites.

You keep the chicken house clean to keep the parasites off the chickens.
You spray to kill germs—but what do you do to get the germs and parasites inside the chicken. Hens especially show it at moulting time and during the winter. How can you expect them to lay? Free them of all internal parasites by feeding them B A Thomas Poultry Powder occasionally. If it doesn't make your hens happy, we will

That Genius Whistler.

Of Whistler Lady St. Heller in "Memories of Fifty Years" writes thus: "He was a genius and had all the defects and qualities of one. To him everything was a joke, the subject of a bonnet. The lightest and daint-est of persiflage was what he excelled in, and one never had a dull moment in his company. He was always late for dinner, arranging the immortal lock of gray hair in its proper place as he came into the room, with apologies and excuses, none of them true, of which he was perfectly conscious and also that they were not believed. Where-ever he was there would be a circle listening to him, and his ringing laugh would be heard all over the room as he sent his shafts right and left into the joints of the armor of those who were attacking him. It was a great surprise and almost a shock when he appeared as a benedict."

Chills, Fever and Malaria

Now He Has Millions.

"See that fellow in the limousine?"
said one man to another at Washington and Illinois streets as a big car passed.
"Well, I can remember when he didn't have but one pair of socks; now he has millions."
"Gee, he must have some washings," replied the friend whose mind does not run to finances.—Indianapolis News.

DO YOUR VERY BEST.

Be Earnest and Thorough and You Are Bound to Succeed.

There is a feature of Dickens' character which cannot be too often or too seriously insisted upon, and that is his intense earnestness and thoroughness in everything he did. He said to me more than once:

"My dear boy, do everything at your best. If you do that neither I nor any one else can find fault with you, even if you fail. For myself, I can honestly say that I have taken as great pains with the smallest thing I ever did as with the biggest."

In giving advice to a young author he said on one occasion:

"If you want your public to believe in what you write you must believe in it yourself. When I am describing a scene I can as distinctly see what I am describing as I can see you now. So real are my characters to me that on one occasion I had fixed upon the course which one of them was to pursue. The character, however, got hold of me and made me do exactly the opposite to what I had intended, but I was so sure that he was right and I was wrong that I let him have his own way."

Whatever he did either in work or at play he always gave of his very best.
He hated slackness or half heartedness
in any shape or form.—Harper's Weekly.

ODDITIES OF VISION.

Peculiar Optical Effects and the Yellow
Spot in the Eye.

If one places a pinhead up close to and directly in front of the eye the head of the pin appears transparent and things may be seen as easily through it as through a sheet of isinglass, the head appearing simply as a large round cloud. If it is placed somewhat closer no pin or head can be seen at all.

If one goes into a very dark room and puts a lighted candle near the side of one eye very pretty and peculiar effects are observed. A tracery, forming a regular network, can be easily detected, and this is merely the shadow thrown by the candle on the retina of the eye of the small capillary blood vessels between the retina and the candle.

If one looks to the side of a dim star in the heavens the star appears a great deal brighter than direct vision makes it appear. This is because the light in the direct view falls on what is known as the "yellow spot" or point of keenest vision. As this is not put directly behind the front of the eye the side glance is necessary. Some people can see stars that way that they cannot perceive at all on direct vision.—
Pittsburgh Dispatch.

A Garrick Incident.

David Garrick, where speaking was concerned, was the pride of London.
Members of parliament envied him his powers. Burke envied him. There is that instance in parliament when, during a heated debate, a member moved that the gallery be cleared. This was ordered to be done, and the strangers withdrew, all save Garrick. Still the member objected. Then up spoke Burke. Would it be fair to exclude from their debate the master of eloquence, the genius who taught them
the art of speaking? he demanded.
For himself he was proud to acknowledge his indebtedness to Garrick. Fox followed in the same strain, and Townshend. The house then voted that the "stranger should remain." And Garrick did not budge.—St. James' Gazette.

Soho Square, London.

Soho is perhaps the most curiously derived place name in London. According to Samuel Pegge, the antiquary, Soho square, which has given a name to the district, was first called Monmouth square when the ill fated Duke of Monmouth had a house there.
Upon the duke's defeat and execution in 1685 the square was ordered to be called King's square, and a statue of King Charles II. was set up in the middle of it. But the partisans of the Duke of Monmouth, wishing to preserve a distant remembrance of their leader, called it Soho square. from "Soho" a hunting cry adopted by the duke as his watchword at the battle where he was taken prisoner.—London Saturday Review.

Justice.

A Sunday school teacher had been telling her class of little boys about crowns of glory and heavenly rewards for good people.

"Now, tell me," she said at the close of the lesson, "who will get the biggest crown?"

There was a silence for a minute or two, then a bright little chap piped out: "I'm wot's got t' biggest 'ead."—London Tit-Bits.

Futility of Argument.

Plato defined man as "a two legged animal without feathers." Diogenes, who heard this, plucked a cock. "This is Plato's man," said he. But never you think the old timer lacked a "comeback." He added to his original definition the words, "With broad flat nails." Such is the futility of argument.—Springfield Republican.

The One Advantage.

"Traded your motor boat for an aero-plane, eh? What's the idea?"
"Well, there's this about an aero-plane—even if the engine does break down, you're bound to land somewhere."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Passionate people always deny their anger, and cowards often boast their guarantee of fear.

"ROARING WAVE OF FIRE" IS HURLED BY GERMANS.

Many of the Victims Die From Suffocation In Intense Heat.

A dispatch from the Daily Chronicle's correspondent in the north of France says that an officer who was on the fighting line when the Germans attacked with blazing gases has given his impressions of this novel engine of warfare as follows:

"I don't think the use of these flames was any less formidable than that of asphyxiating gases. Their effect at short range is much worse, but it is easier to find shelter from them. The flames carry only a relatively short distance and cannot reach you a long way off, as often is the case with poison gases.

"The flame is yellow with a blue nucleus and is directed through a powerful air jet. It springs from the ground level and expands into a roaring wave of fire. Indeed, the flame is very much like that of a common Bunsen burner, used in a laboratory, only yellower.

"The pressure of air or other gas that is used to force the inflammable liquid through the jet must be enormous, in view of the volume and fury of the flame. Many of the victims died simply from suffocation, caused by the intense heat that rolled forward in front of the flames, which did not touch them."

TOUR WITH TEN FOOT TICKET

Seeing America First Calls For Three Yards of Railroad Transportation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Callahan have left Redland, Cal., with the longest tickets ever issued from a railroad office there. They are to "see America first," for they will spend a year in traveling through almost every state in the Union. From Redlands they go to Los Angeles, to San Francisco and visit the exposition, then to Lake Tahoe and probably to the Yellowstone, to Denver, Chicago, Montreal, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Portland, Me.; Boston and to New York.

They will stay in New York for several weeks and will then go to Washington, where they will see the sights of the national capital. From Washington they will go to Jacksonville, Fla., where they plan to spend most of the winter. On the return trip they will see New Orleans, Memphis, Tenn.; Kansas City, Paeblo, Colo.; Salt Lake, Ogden and back to San Francisco, where they will again spend some time at the exposition. Their tickets are nine feet eight inches in length.

Absent Witnesses

This day came the Commonwealth's Attorney of the Ninth Judicial District and tendered the following written motion, to-wit:

"Owing to the fact that many, many witnesses were called in the court room during the present term, who had been duly and legally summoned in important criminal cases, and, owing to the fact that great inconvenience, delay and expense resulted therefrom to other witnesses, the court and the Commonwealth of Kentucky, I hereby move the court that a forthwith attachment issue, hereafter, for each and every witness who is subpoenaed for the Commonwealth and who thereafter fails or refuses to be in the court room, and to answer to his name, when called, be that time 9:00 o'clock a. m. or any other hour of the day before court is adjourned or the witness excused by the Commonwealth or the court. Believing this my duty, in furthering the ends of justice and saving the State expense, I respectfully pray the judgment of the court on this motion; and, if same be sustained, I further move that notice of the court's action in the premises be published in The Breckenridge News and the Record Press for three consecutive issues next preceding the October, 1915, term of the Breckenridge Circuit Court. Respectfully submitted,

H. D. H. MOORMAN,
Commonwealth's Attorney, Ninth Judicial District, State of Kentucky." The court being advised in the premises, adjudges that the suggested rule is necessary, wise and wholesome, and sustains said motion, and the sheriff of Breckenridge county is hereby ordered and directed to hereafter notify each witness subpoenaed of the existence of this rule and order and to govern themselves accordingly; and it is further ordered that the clerk of the Breckenridge Circuit Court deliver a true copy of this order to The Breckenridge News and to the Record Press in time for same to be inserted for three consecutive issues of each paper next preceding the October, 1915, term of this court.

In Testimony Whereof, witness my hand this May 15th, 1915.

LEO M. FRANK

Taken by Mob From Stockade—His Body May be Found on Grave of Mary Phagan.

Milledgeville, Ga., August 16.—Leo M. Frank, Georgia's noted life-term convict, was removed from the Georgia prison farm here tonight by twenty-five armed men, who overpowered Warden Smith.

Previous to the attack the wires leading to the prison were cut. Frank was placed in an automobile and rushed in the direction of Eatonton.

It is unknown whether the party rescuing were friends or lynchers.

WILLIAM THAW DECORATED.

American in French Aviation Corps Gets His Third Citation.

William Thaw of Pittsburgh, who is serving as an aviator in the French army, has just received his third citation in the orders of the day. He has been detailed to the dangerous work of locating and observing German batteries, often situated two or three miles behind the first line.

Recently while flying low one shell broke immediately beneath his machine. It is the German's custom to fire three test shells to locate an aviator's range. As soon as the first shell broke Thaw immediately started to rise and then dive to avoid the two ensuing shells.

A moment later one shell exploded a short distance in front and the third one directly behind. A piece of shrapnel carried away a portion of the tail, and for a moment the machine appeared lost. Thaw succeeded in righting it, regaining control, turned and, after passing through a hot rifle fire, landed safely inside the French lines.

The general commanding the division, who witnessed the feat, asked to be presented to the aviator, as he wished to compliment him. Thaw was immediately brought before the general. The following morning the citation appeared in the orders of the day.

WHERE THE DAY CHANGES.

The International Date Line in the Pacific Ocean.

A great many people cannot see why when a man crosses the international date line in the Pacific ocean if he goes toward the east he loses a day and if toward the west he gains a day—that is, if it, say, happens to be Tuesday just this side if he crosses to the west it will be Monday. The distance he may have actually gone need be only a few feet, but it is true nevertheless. The actual time may be only a second's difference.

To understand this remember that we go from Monday to Tuesday at 12 o'clock at night—jump immediately from one day to another. Consider also that if a man could travel toward the east as fast as the earth rotates and if he started at midday, with the sun directly overhead, he would go completely round the earth in no solar time at all, for the sun would always be just over his head and to him it would be 12 o'clock all the time if he measured time by the position of the sun. He would not experience any night at all and so would have twenty-four hours of sunlight. But it has actually taken him twenty-four hours to get around, so the time when he reached his starting place again would be 12 o'clock noon all right, but would be a day later than when he started.

So it can be readily seen that some meridian on the earth's surface must be picked out as the starting point of a new day, and the chosen one lies almost entirely in the Pacific ocean.—Every Week.

A DOCTOR'S HOBBY.

There Was a Quaker Twist to the End of Peebles' Experiments.

There was a British physician named Robert Peebles who created a sensation in London and Edinburgh several years ago by his insistent coaxing of athletes for the privilege of studying their bodies after death.

Peebles had been experimenting with the muscles and had arrived at what his associates termed a fantastic notion that some sort of operation could be performed on the leg of the human runner so that his speed could be increased. Leapers and high jumpers were his hobby, and in the course of five years it was estimated that he had examined the leg muscles of nearly a thousand men, making comparisons with the running and leaping muscles of the frog, the deer, the greyhound and other animals.

Peebles was a man of means, and after he had succeeded in inducing half a dozen athletes of reputation to "will him their legs" the attention of surgeons was attracted. They took the matter under consideration at one of their quarterly meetings and warned Peebles they would have him committed to a sanitarium if he continued his strange pursuit. Peebles defied them, and they had a commission appointed. While his sanity was being tested Peebles died. In his will he bequeathed his brain to the commission.—Exchange.

A beggar boy asked an old gentleman in the street for sixpence.

"What will you do with it if I give you one?" asked the old gentleman.

"Turn it into ninepence quick," replied the boy.

"How?"

"Give me the sixpence and I'll soon show you."

The boy got the money, darted off to a baker's shop and bought a three penny loaf, with which he returned to the old gentleman and handed him back 3 pennies.

"How's this? You said you would make the sixpence into ninepence."

"So I have. The baker's got three-pence, you've got three-pence, and I've got a three penny loaf. That's ninepence."—Pearson's Weekly.

An Interesting Talk.

In the days of Henry Clay, a Kentucky farmer sent a servant to Lexington with a note for the president of a certain bank. When the man returned he said to his master:

"I met Marse Henry Clay in the bank and had a conversation with him."

"Indeed! And on what topic did you and Mr. Clay converse?" inquired the master with interest.

The darky removed his hat and made a sweeping bow. "Says Mr. Clay to me," "And I the same to Mr. Clay."—Everybody's.

Mr. Wise Guy.

Mr. Wise Guy sat beside the road watching his chauffeur doctor a puncture. Presently a farmer, leading a youthful calf, passed.

"Where'd you get the calf, Rube?" Mr. Wise Guy inquired impudently.

"Set a hen on a bottle o' milk," was the reply.

And Mr. Wise Guy was mean enough to threaten to fire the chauffeur for laughing.—Indianapolis News.

SENSATIONAL AND STUPENDOUS HIPPODROME SHOW

Greatest Acts of Vaudeville and Circus Booked For the Kentucky State Fair, Sept. 13-18

FRAMED by the giant oval and lofty dome of the $100,000 Pavilion, there will be offered each evening, beginning at 7:30, at the Kentucky State Fair an aggregation of feature acts which are declared to constitute one of the greatest entertainments of the kind ever offered at a State Fair.

Secretary Dent has bent every energy toward securing turns which will provide a vivid contrast and a decided sensation, and the show as a whole will live up to the billing of Hippodrome.

Supreme among the banner attractions listed stands Oscar Lowandes' equestrian act, in which Lowandes and his beautiful girl partner perform amazing bareback stunts and tumbly feats. The act is splendidly staged and costumed and aside from its marvels of horsemanship and acrobatic art is as picturesque and pleasing to the eye as sculptured groups from a master hand.

Life, motion, color and thrill will characterize the turn of the Hassan Ben Ali Troupe of Arabian dancers, sword twirlers, leapers and tumblers.

The Cevene Troupe are aerial artists who are said to perform more dare-devil feats to the minute than any competitors in the show world. They do all the sensational midair flying and trapeze balancing ever attempted and, it is claimed, add hair raising accomplishments individual to themselves alone.

The Dellmeade Company is a musical aggregation of ten which boasts five classical beauties who are said to be stunning in looks and gowning. Their offering is likewise said to be a distinct novelty and one of the most delightful ever appearing in vaudeville.

The Piccolini Acrobats are absolute muscular marvels, and the lifting, balancing, carrying and wrestling offered by them are sensational in the extreme. In entertaining contrast to these artists will be an aggregation of acrobatic comedians who combine uproariously funny clowning with some really skillful and interesting acrobatic work.

Thirty-five richly and kaleidoscopically arrayed musicians designated as the Royal Hussar Band and an equally large number of harmony dispensers known as the Scotch Highlander Players will be an important and enjoyable feature of the Hippodrome and night horse show exhibitions.

Pheasant, Duck, Goose and Deer New Feature For Kentucky State Fair

A WONDERFUL, instructive and interesting exhibition planned as a new feature for the Kentucky State Fair will be the showing of every variety of pheasant, deer, wild duck and goose native to this country. The State Fair management has apportioned spacious grounds for the pens and cages in which the nucleus of a wonderful zoo is to be introduced during the celebration of Sept. 13-18, and, in fact, the specimens of pheasant already secured by the Fair management under the auspices and direction of the State Fish and Game Commission place Kentucky's collection second only to the largest in the world, which is a part of the zoo at Brooklyn, N. Y.

The State Fish and Game Commission is making every effort to replenish the almost entirely depleted stock of pheasants in Kentucky and has recently imported from England large flocks of breeders, which have been placed throughout the state. Special precautions have been taken for the protection of the birds, and farmers on whose land the pheasants have been placed have been feeding them regularly and report that they have become quite tame. Quail will also be included in the importation of birds, and 5,000 will be brought into the state from Mexico. This variety of quail is native to Kentucky, but Mexico is the only place where the birds can be secured for restocking.

Two thousand five hundred pairs of English ring neck pheasants were liberated in Kentucky recently, and a large number of Prince of Wales pheasants were placed in the lowlands of the Purchase, to which section they are especially adapted. Reeves' pheasants have been sent in large quantities to the interior sections of the state.

All of these and every other existing variety of pheasant will be exhibited in the State Fair collection, as will the Japanese, English fallow and native American deer.

Special cut rate excursions will be run into Louisville over all lines and from all parts of the state during Kentucky State Fair week, Sept. 13-18.

Coupon books of six day tickets at $2 and six night tickets at $1 for the Kentucky State Fair, Sept. 13-18, will be on sale Aug. 15 until Sept. 11.

THOUSANDS TRAPPED BY NEW NARCOTIC DRUG ACT.

Physicians and Druggists Fall Into Net
Set by Harrison Law.

"Some evidence of the effort being made by the government to enforce the Harrison narcotic drug act is shown by the fact that the number of physicians and druggists so far arrested for alleged violations of its provisions has reached into the thousands," declared Dr. B. R. Rhee of the anti-narcotic bureau of the treasury department.

"We are contending with two great problems in enforcing the law," the doctor continued. "One is the physician, who will write a prescription when there is no necessity for his so doing, and the other is the druggist who sells without the proper prescription. Most of the arrests have been from these two classes of violators of the law, though, of course, some peddlers of the drug have been apprehended."

"Under the present conditions, however, every peddler must get his supply from some source over which we keep a watch, so that is a phase of the work which can finally be checked up, though not, of course, immediately in all cases. One of the principal troubles now is that prior to March 1, when the law went into effect, a number of druggists stocked up with morphine sulphate, cocaine and other forbidden drugs and then failed to enter them all on their inventory. In such cases, unless we can 'get the goods on them,' they may dispose of large quantities of the drugs at fabulous profits through selling to persons who have no prescriptions, and perhaps even to peddlers."

"We are working the druggists against the physicians in the hope of checking up those who do not seek to comply with the spirit of the law. The druggist can tell, by the size of the doses, whether the purchase is legitimate. If the drug is for an addict the doses should be gradually reduced. On the other hand, for an incurable, to whom the drug is given merely to relieve pain, the doses should show a mild rate of increase, as naturally to assuage the same pain the amount of narcotic must be constantly increased."

"Our inspectors, of course, could detect the filling of prescriptions at different drug stores on inspecting the narcotic prescription files of every store and would at once look into any suspicious case."

SANTA DRAWN INTO WAR.

Children to Protest Because They Can't Get Toys From Germany.

Secretary Lansing need not be surprised if one of these mornings when he reaches his office he finds waiting for him a little plump old gentleman with a long white, wearing, like some of the women these days, summer furs and bearing in his hand a formidable petition, signed by all the boys and girls of America, protesting against the British blockade in council.

There is reason to suspect that this gentleman, Mr. S. Claus, is really a German-American and that his original name was Kriss Kringle. The cause that is expected to bring him down from the north pole to brave August weather in Washington is the interference of the British blockade with his importations of Christmas toys from Germany.

It is estimated by several persons in Santa's confidence, notably by Arthur G. Hayes, an American attorney for several American toy importing firms, that $15,000,000 worth of German toys for America will be held up.

The Colossus of Rhodes.

The remains of the Colossus of Rhodes have been dispersed beyond possibility of recovery or even of tracing. It stood for little more than half a century and then, in 224 B. C., was overthrown by an earthquake. The Rhodians raised from benevolent outsiders large sums of money for its restoration, but divided the fund among themselves, asserting that the oracle of Delphi had forbidden them to set it up again. So there the ruin lay until 672 A. D., when the Saracens sold it to a Jewish merchant, who loaded 900 camels and went away—literally—with the brass.—London Spectator.

HIGH VELOCITY STARS.

Their Fearful Rate of Speed in Space
Is Somewhat Puzzling.

The average velocity of stars ranges from about six kilometers, or between three and four miles, per second for "young" stars to about thirty kilometers per second for "old" ones. But notable exceptions occur. At Mount Wilson solar observatory of the Carnegie institution some stars have been found to move with velocities of 141, 150, 179, 233, 316 and even 325 kilometers per second, the highest speed yet known.

These high velocity stars are sometimes described as runaways because they seem to be quite beyond the control of the gravitational power of the universe. At their speed the attraction of the entire known stellar system would be wholly insufficient to check the star's career through space.

The astronomer, Simon Newcomb, once calculated that the maximum velocity attained by a body starting with velocity zero at an infinite distance and passing through a stellar system containing 100,000,000 stars each five times as massive as our sun and distributed throughout a disklike spheroid of certain extent cannot exceed 40 kilometers per second. Yet the star "Groombridge 1890" has a speed nearly nine times this value, and the massive star Arcturus has a speed probably four times this value.

If existing velocities owe their magnitudes to the gravitation of the system the quantity of attracting matter in the whole stellar system would have to be at least eighty times that assumed by the calculations of Professor Newcomb.—Baltimore American.

I Remember, I Remember.

I remember, I remember,
The house where I was born;
The little window where the sun
Came peeping in at morn.
You'd hardly know the old place now,
For dad is up to date,
And the farm is scientific
From the back lot to the gate.

The house and barn are lighted
With bright acetylene,
The engine in the laundry
Is run by gasoline.
We have silos, we have autos,
We have dynamos and things,
A telephone for gossip
And a phonograph that sings.

The hired man has left us,
We miss his homely face;
A lot of college graduates
Are working in his place.
There's an engineer and fireman,
A chauffeur and a vet.,
'Electrician and mechanic—
Oh, the farm's run right, you bet!

The little window where the sun
Came peeping in at morn,
Now brightens up a bathroom
That cost a car of corn.
Our milkmaid is pneumatic,
And she's sanitary, too,
But dad gets fifteen cents a quart
For milk that once brought two.

Our cattle came from Jersey,
And the hogs are all Duroc;
The sheep are Southdown beauties
And the hens are Plymouth Rock.
To have the best of everything,
That is our aim and plan,
For dad not only farms it,
But he's a business man.

HOW AMERICANS WORK NIGHT AND DAY TO RELIEVE PAIN

Activities of Volunteer Motor Ambulance Corps Vividly Described by a Member.

Physicians and Nurses Take Their Cars to the Very Thick of Desperate Fighting.

WILLIAM R. BERRY, a Princeton graduate, has written from the field a vivid and interesting description of the work of the American Volunteer Motor Ambulance corps, which has been doing effective service with more than twenty cars for the wounded of the French army.

The American Volunteer Motor Ambulance corps was organized at the outbreak of the war by Richard Norton, son of the late Professor Charles Elliot Norton. It is supported almost entirely by American subscriptions, and prominent society and humanitarian leaders of Washington have carried on campaigns for its support.

It is composed principally of Americans, though some Englishmen who could not fight from physical disabilities also have joined it. Most of the American volunteers are college graduates.

"The American Volunteer Motor Ambulance corps, attached to the Second French army in the north of France since October, has removed to a new basis less than six miles behind the lines," Mr. Berry writes. "An immediate result has been the establishment of single guard cars at three points directly on the line and in front of the guns."

"Perhaps I can best give you an idea of the kind of work the guard cars do by a description of my first twenty-four hours at a post less than half a mile or so behind the trenches."

"Two of us on a two stretcher, three sitters De Launey-Bellville ambulance arrived at the appointed village a little after midday. We found the doctors and stretcher bearers of two of the four regiments we were to serve installed in a one story farmhouse, the covered barnyard entrance to which was the shelter our car was to occupy while awaiting orders."

Called to the Trenches.
"At 2:30 p. m. there came a telephone order from the 'Premier Post de Secours' at the trenches for the 'Voiture Americaine' to report there immediately. Slowly we crawled through streets littered with the debris of shell shattered houses and walls, and by sentries who demanded the password at the bayonet's point. Further on a cluster of supply and ammunition trains in a country lane kept us back, but a sudden turn to the left showed a white ribbon of empty road that wound up over a high ridge before us. Innocent we looked and inviting."

"We opened the throttle wide and rushed to the summit to find ourselves in full view of the German guns and trenches, while in the surface of the road we jolted over old shell marks gaped at us like manholes. Down the far side of the ridge we dropped at full speed, holding our breath. But no shells fell, and no bullets, and we inwardly congratulated ourselves as we drew up near the dug out shelters hidden in a hollow behind the French second line, where we found an orderly waiting for us beside a final sentry."

"Here the car was turned around and the stretchers shouldered, for we had reached a point beyond which the ambulance might not go, since the road, which led straight on to the German lines, was heavily barricaded at intervals of fifteen meters."

"The Premier Poste de Secours was some way down the road, and we hurried toward it with the orderly. When we reached this first aid dressing station proved to be a dugout chamber five feet below ground, reached by an inclined plane much as one enters to the tomb chamber of the great pyramid of Cheops."

Wounded Men Waiting.
"Here we found our men, wounded but fifteen minutes before, ready for us. One had a rifle bullet through his head; the other was riddled with shrapnel. Both were in pretty bad shape, the shrapnel case especially, but as we lifted the first on to the stretcher his eyes opened, and he smiled at us, while from the distorted bundle of light blue uniform and red bandage

ADVICES from Paris give the above figures as losses of Europe in the great war up to May 31 as compiled by the French ministry of war. While not accepted as exact, the figures are the first official record of the war's casualties. Serbia is not included in the list.

The outstanding feature of the above computation, apart from its staggering total, is the proportion of killed to wounded. In former wars the dead and wounded have usually worked out in the ratio of one to four or five. The above table shows a ratio of five to six.

Administration Building and Infirmary, Hazelwood Sanatorium, Louisville

THIS building, with adjacent cottages, is the only place in Kentucky for the reception of any case of tuberculosis except for the Jefferson county institution, Waverly Hills Sanatorium and the little Jackson Hill Sanatorium at Paducah. White patients in all stages of the disease may here receive the essentials of treatment—namely, medical supervision, fresh air, rest and correct diet. The rates are $12.50 per week. Any person interested in obtaining treatment here should address Dr. Oscar O. Miller, Resident Physician, Hazelwood Sanatorium, Rural Free Delivery No. 2, Louisville, Ky. The head nurse is Miss Catherine Hooe of Louisville.

Prominent physicians from all sections of the state comprise the medical advisory board, of which Dr. Ap Morgan Vance is chairman. F. A. Sampson is superintendent.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

VII.—Hon. Elihu Root On Woman's Sphere

The question of Woman Suffrage is an issue before the American people. Twelve states have adopted it, four more states vote upon it this fall and it is strongly urged that it become a platform demand of the national political parties. It is therefore the privilege and the duty of every voter to study carefully this subject. Hon. Elihu Root, in discussing this question before the Constitutional Convention of New York, recently said in part:

"I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women, because I believe that it would be a loss to women, to all women and to every woman; and because I believe it would be an injury to the State, and to every man and every woman in the State. It would be useless to argue this if the right of suffrage were a natural right. If it were a natural right, then women should have it though the heavens fall. But if there be any one thing settled in the long discussion of this subject, it is that suffrage is not a natural right, but is simply a means of government, and the sole question to be discussed is whether government by the suffrage of men and women will be better government than by the suffrage of men alone."

Into my judgment, sir, there enters no element of the inferiority of woman. It is not that woman is inferior to man, but it is that woman is different from man; that in the distribution of powers, of capacities, of qualities, our Maker has created man adapted to the performance of certain functions in the economy of nature and society, and woman adapted to the performance of other functions.

Woman rules today by the sweet and noble influences of her character. Put woman into the arena of conflict and she abandons these great weapons which control the world, and she takes into her hands, feeble and nerveless for strife, weapons with which she is unfamiliar and which she is unable to wield. Woman in strife becomes hard, harsh, unlovable, repulsive; as far removed from that gentle creature to whom we all owe allegiance and to whom we confess submission, as the heaven is removed from the earth.

The whole science of government is the science of protecting life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In the divine distribution of powers, the duty and the right of protection rests with the male. It is so throughout nature. It is so with men, and I, for one, will never consent to part with the divine right of protecting my wife, my daughter, the women whom I love, and the women whom I respect, exercising the birthright of man, and place that high duty in the weak and nerveless hands of those designed by God to be protected rather than to engage in the stern warfare of government. In my judgment, this whole movement arises from a false conception of the duty and of the right of both men and women.

The time will never come when the line of demarcation between the functions of the two sexes will be broken down. I believe it to be false philosophy; I believe that it is an attempt to turn backward upon the line of social development, and that if the step ever be taken, we go centuries backward on the march towards a higher, a nobler and a purer civilization, which must be found not in the confusion, but in the higher differentiation of the sexes."

THE NARROW BOSPORUS.

At Its Greatest Width It Measures Only 9,838 Feet.

The Bosphorus contains few dangerous submarine rocks or shoals. The locality of these few is indicated by lighthouses or buoys. The water is only slightly tinged with salt and is marvelously clear. The sands, glittering apparently near the surface, may be twenty feet below.

On a map, of whatever scale, each of those familiar straits, which cleave lands and continents asunder, seems hardly more than a silvery thread. Yet as one sails over their famous waters the opposing shores on either hand sometimes appear far away. The strait of Gibraltar, which wrests Africa from Europe, is sixteen miles wide; that of Messina, forcing its way between Italy and Sicily, is from two to twelve; that of Bonifacio, which, like a blade of steel, cuts Corsica and Sardinia apart, is seven miles in width at its most contracted point; even the Dardanelles expands from over one to four.

But the illusion as to distance created by the map is reality as to the Bosphorus. Off Buyukdereh, where it attains its largest breadth, its hemmed in waters broaden to only 9,838 feet, or about one and four-fifths miles. Between Roumel Hissar and Anadolu Hissar they shrink to one-sixth of these dimensions, or to 1,641 feet. From "Constantinople," by Edwin A. Grosvenor.

Scrawny Calves.

What makes a calf scrawny—off its feet? Germs—parasites—in the intestines. Why not free them of this trouble? If you will give the calf some B. A. Thomas' Steek Remedy in its feed, within a week you will see it brighten up and in four or five weeks you won't know the calf. Costs you but a few cents and we will refund that if it doesn't do as we say. For sale at Wedding's Drug Store, Cloverport, Ky.

BROOK TROUT.

Science Outdoes Nature in Raising the Young Fish.

The brook trout is a nest builder, but does not belong to the group of fish which cares for its eggs and young. When the function of egg laying is completed and the nest covered with gravel the parent fish seem to feel that their whole duty has been performed, and they depart, leaving both eggs and the young when they are hatched to the care of nature, and nature, it must be confessed, is generally neglectful of her charge.

Early in autumn the mature brook trout in pairs seek the gravelly bottoms of shoals and spring runs. Here with nose and fins they hollow out a shallow basin and make it scrupulously clean. This is their nest, and over the bottom the eggs are scattered, covered with gravel, and their duty to posterity is ended.

Only a small proportion of the eggs deposited naturally are fertilized, and many of these are destroyed by spawn eating fishes. Most of the tiny fish which do develop and succeed in punching a hole through the egg shell with their little tails and emerging into a watery world do so only to find quick lodgment in some larger fish.

As a foster parent the trout culturist is a greater success than Dame Nature. The latter, under the most favorable circumstances, rarely succeeds in hatching more than 10 per cent of the eggs deposited, while the former expects to develop into wiggling fishes nearly 50 per cent of the eggs obtained.
